Speaker bio

Fria Charlane Moneva-Ampaso is a licensed professional teacher, executive assistant, and learning experience designer based in Cagayan de Oro, Philippines. She holds a master's degree in Educational Management and co-founded The Virtu Task, where she helps aspiring freelancers practice the skills they will use with clients. Her sessions draw on her experience teaching elementary learners, designing workshops, and managing research and outreach for founders.

Talks & audience takeaways

From the classroom to your first freelance offer

For educators and aspiring freelancers

Identify a skill you already use, translate it into a client service, and outline a sample that shows what you can do.

Turn your expertise into a hands-on workshop

For coaches, educators, and program teams

Choose one thing learners should be able to do. Design a practice activity around it and decide what feedback will help them improve.

Outreach that starts with a reason

For founders, virtual assistants, and small teams

Assess a prospect's fit, find a timely reason to reach out, and draft a first message that invites a conversation.
